Dvorák: Viola Quintet in E flat major, Op. 97

Prizewinners at the 2015 Wigmore Hall International String Quartet competition, the Piatti Quartet is one of the most exciting quartets of its generation. The Quartet made its debut at the Aldeburgh Festival in 2018 and returns to Wigmore Hall early in 2019. Andriy Viytovich, principal violist of the orchestra of the Royal Opera House, will join the ensemble to play Dvorák's E flat quintet.

June Concert

THE CARDINALL'S MUSICK

'Music for the Eternal City'

The programme includes the 12-voice 'Missa Cantantibus organis Caecilia' by Palestrina and his colleagues, which was probably written in the 1580s. The second half opens with Allegri's famous 'Miserere' with its resonant, yet mournful, top Cs.

A 'jewel in the crown' of early-music consorts, The Cardinal's Musick specialises in music of the 16th and 17th centuries. Through many award-winning recordings and concerts, they have established, under Andrew Carwood's direction, a reputation as one of the world's most expressive, entertaining and professional ensembles. The Times recently admired the ensemble's "clear tones; perfect intonation.... an ideal balance between individual colour and an ensemble blend...".
